You should look at this chart about music genres, https://pudding.cool/2023/10/genre/

In the digital project being viewed, we get a closer look on the top genres being streamed on spotify. The main point of the authors writing this project is to show how diverse the streams on spotify are getting. For example, they tell readers that spotify has become accessible in more countries which impacts the type of music being streamed. Kpop and Latin music have definitely become more popular in the past few years than ever before.

The visualizations of this project are a lot of table formats. They include many line graphs that show readers how over the years certain types of music have skyrocketed while others have gotten less streams. This is an effective way of showing specific data such as dates and the genres.

Something that I would change from this project would be adding colors and genres because although the charts were very informative, it was hard to identify the individual genres being spoken of. By adding more colors or images, it could make the project more visually appealing and draw readers into their specific project more.
